Jones, an early subscriber to buy the land for the Main Library; of John S. Farlow, early benefactor of the library; of Charles A. Read, who left $40,000 to the City of Newton, the interest of which is for free public scientific lectures, for an annual picnic for the children of Newton Corner, and for the purchase of public library books. Announce Additional Gardens For Tour

Often, when we live in a place, we are acquainted only with our particular neighborhood, plus the route to the various shopping centers and the roads to the houses of certain friends. Beyond that we are apt to know nothing about our own city; to be entirely unaware, for instance, of some of the large lovely homes and gardens that still exist here; to realize what some of our not too distant neighbors have done by way of gardening in a small lot, or an oddly-shaped lot, or a yard full of rocks.

Manufacturing Concentration In New England Area Attracts New Industry Survey Reports

The importance of the existing high concentration of manufacturing in New England as a source of new industry is brought out in a survey of new manufacturing firms made public by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston in its "Monthly Review."

The survey was conducted among a representative cross section of 106 new manufacturing firms established in New England in the immediate post-war period to determine why they selected New England as a location. It was carried out under a research grant from the Federal Reserve Bank, by George H. Ellis, a Harvard University teaching fellow.

The firms studied were divided into three groups—new firms, branch plants and plant relocations. The chief reason given by new firms for their selection of New England was associated with the concentration of industry in the area. All but 13 of the 42 new firms interviewed gave "personal reasons" as the determining factor in their decision to settle in New England, reflecting the desire of the presidents or partners to maintain established residences or business connections in this area. The study points out that New England gained most of these new establishments because of the manufacturing activity already existing in the area. The region's industrial know-how and its wealth of manufacturing facilities have made it possible for many new industries to spring up unobtrusively in plant space vacated under widely publicized departures of other industries. This cycle of new enterprise replacing old is characteristic of the region's long industrial history.

Parent Concerns
The industrial character of the area was also reflected in the leading reason given by branch plants for their choice of New England as a location. The majority of the branches said they were motivated by a desire to be close to their parent concerns, which in most cases were already located in the region. This "production relationship" was given as the first reason by 18 of the material availability, water supply, waste disposal and capital availability.

Pencil Drawings At Waban Library

Of interest to Newton people is an exhibition of pencil drawings and oil paintings, to be held this Saturday and Sunday in the Waban Library. Elizabeth N. DeVicq of Waban is showing pencil drawings many done of the quaint old shacks and boats at Cape Ann. Harland A. Ricker of Newton Highlands is exhibiting his colorful landscapes done in oils of our New England country side. The exhibition is free to the public and everyone is cordially invited.

Power and fuel costs of the various New England States did not exert a significant influence on the regional decisions of any of the firms included in the survey, nor did they exert much influence on the choice of community location. The relative unimportance of these costs in relation to decisions does not mean that new firms are indifferent to the level of power and fuel costs, the study says. Branch plant managers interviewed were quick to point out that fuel and power costs in New England were generally higher than in locations outside the region.

Labor Picture
The manufacturers interviewed expressed satisfaction over the labor picture, observing that New England workers are responsible, stable, permanent citizens of their communities. It was felt that proximity to outdoor recreation facilities induces greater happiness and satisfaction among employees, which shows up in production.

Need New Buildings
The study concludes by pointing out that New England needs new buildings to house its budding enterprises if they are to achieve the efficiency necessary to hold their competitive positions. Although old factory buildings serve to incubate new firms, the thrifty attempts to "make do" with the buildings available constitute a drag upon production efficiency.

The Moment

The year holds one moment, which may last for a week, when tree and bush and vine are on the breathless verge of leafing out. It is then that you stand on a hillside and look across the wooded valley and see the scarlet and orange of maple blossoms like a touch of pastel crayon across the tree-tops. You see the greenish yellow in the tops of the wineglass elms, and the amber green fountain that is the big weeping willow beside the brook.

These generalities, so to speak, you see at a glance; and you know the breathless moment is here. Then you look at particulars. The crab apple trees in the orchard are dressed in green lace, their leaves no larger than your little fingernail. The lilacs are all tufted at their stem ends, each leaf cluster tipped with faint brownish purple and not a leaf among them as big as a squirrel's ear. The wild blackberries have scarlet tassels not half an inch long, each tassel an unfolding group of leaves whose form can already be faintly seen. The late apple trees have gray silver nubs at their twig tips; draw down a branch and look closely and you see each nub as a young leaf cluster emerging from its bud, each leaf the size of a ladybug's wing and each red-tipped as though blushing. The privet has a leaf tuft like a miniature green magnolia, and the bridal wreath bush is green at every joint with little green rosebud leaves.

These things you see now, this instant. An hour from now all will be changed; tomorrow it will be still different. For this is the trembling moment when life stands between bud and leaf, between promise and achievement. A new world is in the making on these old, old hills, even as we watch.

The Work of the Legislature

During April, the Massachusetts Legislature, otherwise known as the General Court, passed some forty bills and rejected about three hundred others. The bills that actually arrived on the Governor's desk were for the most part special bills applying only to one town or city. They authorized local authorities to take some step for which they had asked permission. There were few bills of general interest that were passed or defeated. The box score would contain the following:

Defeated
S1463 to authorize chiropractors to take a separate examination for that required for doctors of medicine.
S5 to prohibit elections by proportional representation in Plan E cities. In effect this would have changed Plan E to Plan D.

H-479 to permit juries to recommend life imprisonment in murder cases. (Electrocution is now mandatory.)
H-1690 to make March 17th a State holiday.

H-1301 to permit voters to register up to twenty days prior to election. (Registrations now close thirty-two days before election.)

S-266 to prohibit medical experiments on animals.
Passed

H160-163 to permit Knights of Columbus and other fraternal orders to write insurance for their members without complying strictly with the laws relating to insurance companies.

H-2336 to exempt men over sixty-five from paying, poll taxes.
S-640 to complete the purchase of ships by the Nantucket & Martha's Vineyard Steamship Authority, a public agency like the MTA.

H-2293 to increase the budget limit of the Boston School Committee. There is no limit in Newton and most cities.

H-2344 to require the name of a sponsor on slates of candidates.
H-1097 to furnish voters' lists to candidates.

This is a small showing for an extremely busy month, but the fact is that the principal effort of the legislators has been in committee work. Each of the thirty-two committees has been busy with hearing and dispositions of bills that have been heard. The results of the committee work will show in the docket for the following weeks. For example, the budget was submitted during the month to the House by the Ways and Means Committee and was debated for several days and sent along to the Senate, where it is still under consideration. It is the largest budget in the history of the State, over two hundred and seventy million dollars. It includes some pay raises in certain departments, but does not include certain capital expenditures for new buildings and highways and various other matters that will be included in a supplemental budget.

Last year's budget included an item covering income and corporate taxes, which are collected by the State and turned over to the cities and towns. The State does not keep this money and merely serves as tax collector. Governor Dever's budget omitted this item. The House Republicans insisted on inserting it to the tune of sixty-seven million dollars in order that the public could compare the two budgets on the same basis. People who glanced at the headlines were mystified as to why Republicans who are working for economy appeared to be adding a huge amount to the budget which they criticized as being inflated.

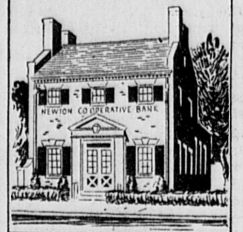

The time of committees consumed with further study of the MTA problem, various proposals for new taxes, a state fund for workmen's compensation, which was turned down by the committee, public health legislation, city charter changes and various proposals to modify or extend welfare and civil service requirements and anti discrimination legislation for colleges.

The Legislature has postponed final decision on bills to create additional judgeships and has spent a good deal of time arguing about Embankment Road, the proposed eight million dollar expressway on the Boston side of the Charles River Basin. This has just been enacted during the current week. A bill to permit women to serve on juries has also been working its way slowly toward the Governor's desk. Next in order will be the proposed new taxes of the administration's tax plan.

Family Balance Sheet Is Issued

In contrast to the often repeated claim that American family life is showing symptoms of decay and disintegration, Family Service Bureau of Newton helped mark the opening of National Family Week, May 1 to 8, by issuing an "American Family Balance Sheet" which emphasized both the assets and liabilities in family living today.

"Much discussion of what is happening to the American Family in 1949, is divided between advocates who view the family either in deep gloom or in light optimism" according to Mrs. Catherine S. Holden, general secretary. "The truth is likely to be found somewhere in between. The important central fact is that the American family is in the middle of rapid change in which both strength and weakness are plainly evident."

Newton is fortunate in possessing a Family Agency serving its residents through skilled counselors in family problems. Founded in 1889, it is a non-sectarian, Red Feather agency, which strives to strengthen family life and help individuals lead satisfying, useful lives. The Family Service Bureau is located at 12 Austin street, Newtonville. It is open weekdays 9 to 5, Saturdays 9 to 12, and evenings by special appointment.

Skin Tumors Light Up Like 'Neon Tubes' Under 'Black Lamp' Used in Cancer Laboratory Study

Dr. Frank H. J. Figge, of the University of Maryland Medical School, has been working with a natural body substance which concentrates in rapidly growing tissues. It fluoresces under certain rays and is being studied as a possible device to detect internal and skin cancers.

One of the substances under investigation is hematoporphyrin, which is derived from the blood. Its present possibilities are three-fold (although Dr. Figge insists, after six years of experimenting, that it is still too early to make claims):

1) Because it concentrates in fast-growing tissue and glows under a black lamp, it lights up skin tumors almost like neon tubes and illuminates suspect cancer-susceptible areas on the skin;

2) Because hematoporphyrin, synthesized and incorporated with radioactive zinc, will take radiation to internal tumors, its internal concentrations can be detected by a Geiger Counter; and

3) Because it carries radiation to tumors, zinc or other metalloporphyrins theoretically could irradiate out of existence cancers inside the body. (It might also kill embryonic healing, liver and lymphatic tissue, in which it also accumulates.)

Dr. Figge, a careful and cautious scientist whose achievements include assisting in the development and anatomical testing of the hypo-spray for injecting substances through the skin and considerable research into possible effect of environmental rays on cancer, is emphatic in declaring that it is too early to make any claims for hematoporphyrin or zinc porphyrin as a cancer detection device. He points out that the quantities of radiation required to kill tumor tissue in all likelihood would also have undesirable effects on the patient. Until these possibilities have been investigated he will not allow its use even on hopeless patients. These studies continue, however.

Hematoporphyrin has been synthesized and now is distributed commercially. When it is injected into animals, it and other natural porphyrins concentrate within 24 to 48 hours in tumors. Porphyrins have shown avidity for all types of tumors so far tested—of the skin or connective tissue, induced by chemicals, transplanted from other animals or developed spontaneously.

Zinc Porphyrin radiation dosages for detection tests would have to be—and could be—low enough not to injure normal live tissues. Hematoporphyrin in all tests to date has proven non-toxic in the dosages used. Injected into mice with chemicals used to induce cancers, however, it accelerated cancer development.

The body's natural porphyrins glow with a brilliant red fluorescence under the standard "black lamp", an eerie beam somewhere in the twilight of the visible and ultraviolet spectra. Turned on a skin tumor, the light discloses a spectacular splotch of red, most intense in the central area of dead cells but of fiery luminosity right to the periphery of the tumor. The "black lamp" brings out in more subdued hues other areas too. In animal experiments these have turned out to be areas exposed to cancer-causing rays or chemicals and tissues in their pre-cancerous or susceptible state.

A test of 172 women volunteers indicated that the "black lamp" and porphyrin technique might prove to be a good supplementary test for susceptibility to cancer of the uterine cervix. But Dr. Figge declared that by no means should it be regarded as a substitute for standard tests.

Stay-at-home Vacationists Can Find Plenty of Recreation Nearby

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of four articles concerning Massachusetts' many and varied recreational activities. Today's story is about historic Boston and Cape Cod. Others will follow about Nantucket, Martha's Vineyard, the North Shore, the South Shore, Pioneer Valley and central Massachusetts, and the Berkshires.

Tradition-steeped Boston and scenic Cape Cod always have been popular vacation spots for stay-at-home vacationists, and this year is expected to be no exception, according to the Massachusetts Development and Industrial Commission.

Boston's many historical and cultural attractions and the Cape's long stretches of cool sandy beaches and quaint villages draw thousands of vacationists and tourists each year. Many folks return to these spots time and time again and on each occasion find something new and interesting.

Three centuries of diversified appeal can be found in Boston. For example, there's Boston Common which originally was used as a public cow pasture and military training field. Ambling through the 50-acre tract, the vacationist can pause at the little cemetery on the Boylston Street side where lies buried Gilbert Stuart, the noted portrait painter, and other prominent Massachusetts citizens.

A little further along is impressive Soldiers' monument which crowns the Common's Flagstaff Hill where the British Artillery was stationed during the siege of Boston in the Revolutionary War. Continuing his stroll, the vacationist comes to Park Street Church and the Old Granary Burial Ground, resting place of 10 early Bay State Governors and of Mary Goose, originator of the Mother Goose Rhymes that are so familiar to most children.

But Cape Cod is not without historical appeal, either. Sandwich, which is more than 300 years old, still keeps vestiges of its world-famous glass industry. Barnstable, Yarmouth and Dennis charm the visitor with their old Colonial homes.

Cape Cod also boasts of deep pine forests, jewel-like harbors, modern highways, cool inland ponds and elm-shaded streets—all intermingled with barren salt marshes and bleak rocky hills.

The Cape is a fisherman's paradise. Its 270 lakes and ponds furnish excellent fresh water fishing, boating and bathing. And for salt water fishing enthusiasts the shore of Cape Cod abound in striped bass, bluefish, tuna and pollack.

Both on Cape Cod and in Boston are many fine golf courses, tennis courts and horseback riding facilities. Boston and greater Boston, like the Cape, has many miles of unsurpassed beaches where swimming is excellent.

Boston is an ideal city for the vacationist to just "putter about." Its quaint narrow cobbled streets and musty bookstores seem to accent the role Boston played in early Colonial Days. Then there's such attractions as the Old State House, Faneuil Hall, the Custom House, the Paul Revere House, Trinity Church, the Boston Public Library, the Fenway with its beautiful rose garden, the Museum of Fine Arts and Symphony Hall.

Like Boston, Cape Cod has an intellectual atmosphere. The scientists who flock to Woods Hole, the artists who fill Provincetown's charming streets, the theatre folk in Dennis where the Cape Playhouse offers its summer repertory — all contribute to an unmistakable Massachusetts culture.

Heard on the Bragg About Boston show last Friday were: Mrs. Stella Heinz, 24 St. James street; Miss Mae Houlihan, 17 Gardner street; Mrs. Ewart, 62 Elmwood street; Mrs. Frankie Grace, 9 Jewett street; and Joanne Hiltz, 26 Jefferson street, and Mrs. Arthur Boyd, 8 St. James street, Newton Corner.

Around the Studios with Charlie Brooks

The big news in radio circles this month is the annual presentation of Radio Mirror Awards for 1948, based on a poll of radio listeners. "Portia Faces Life" (NBC, 5:15-5:30 p. m., EST) was nominated as "Your Favorite Daytime Serial." In April, "Portia Faces Life" celebrates its 10th year on the air. Lucille Wall, star of this perennial favorite, started in the role of "Portia" when the program began in 1940.

Florence Freeman, who used to be an English teacher, was nominated by radio listeners as their "Favorite Daytime Serial Actress." A busy wife and mother, Florence is the star of "Wendy Warren and the News," (CBS, 12:12-1:00 noon, EST) in which she plays the part of a women's commentator, and also has the lead in "Young Widder Brown" over NBC.

Here's one that should have a good chance for nomination as the best unrehearsed gag of 1949. It happened on "Juvenile Jury" (MBS, 3:30-4:00 p. m., EST, Sundays), where a panel of kids meets every week to discuss the problems of the very young generation. Recently a mother complained to the Jury that her young son liked to stand on his head most of the time and she was worried about him. Counselor seven-year-old Charlie Hankinson: "Well, I wouldn't worry about it; he's probably just turning things over in his mind."

Some of the directors I meet in my wanderings through the studios go out of their way to give me good yarns. One of them, Hoyt Allen, who directs both "Portia Faces Life" (NBC, 5:15-5:30 p. m., EST) and "Perry Mason" (CBS, 2:15-2:30 p. m., EST) leads such a fascinating life that I can always count on him for a story about himself as well as for his shows.

Important To Make Patients Life Useful

Saving the life of a tuberculous patient is important, but after his life has been saved, it is even more important to help the individual to make his life useful. Dr. Sidney Licht, chief of medical rehabilitation for the Veterans Administration and editor of the Journal of Occupational Therapy and Rehabilitation, told sixty directors, members, and Christmas seal sale workers at the fourth annual meeting of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association at the Newtonville Library.

Dr. Licht said that the long, inactive period of rest in bed can create problems for the patient. These problems are today being partially overcome with the new practice by doctors of prescribing small doses of light work while the patient is in bed. Dr. Licht described the valuable work being done in patient rehabilitation by the rehabilitation workers employed by tuberculosis associations and by the several sanatoria in the commonwealth.

Donald Eyre Bowen, M.D., of West Newton, was elected president of the Association, to be assisted by the following officers: Henry D. Chadwick, M.D., honorary president; T. Stewart Hamilton, M.D., 1st vice-president; Harold B. Gores, 2nd vice-president; Emily M. Hickey, clerk; and Roland F. Gammons, treasurer. The executive committee chosen are the officers and Philip O. Ahlin, Mrs. Meyer Armet, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Miller, Ernest M. Morris, M.D., and Arthur J. Strawson.

Elected to the board of directors for a period of three years were: Mrs. Meyer Armet, Miss Helene D. Breivogel, Joseph R. Cotter, M.D., Roland F. Gammons, T. Stewart Hamilton, M.D., Raymond E. Johnson, M.D., Ernest M. Morris, M.D., Mrs. Henry A. Plimpton, Alton S. Pope, M.D., and Mrs. William W. B. Sutton. Also, Thomas Sears Hayden, D.M.D., was elected for one year to fill the unexpired term of George C. Wilson, M.D. Reports of the Rehabilitation, Health Education, and Nominating Committees were read by their chairmen, Miss Emily M. Hickey, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Miller, and Mr. Harold B. Gores, respectively.

Tea was served just before the meeting. Mrs. Alton S. Pope, who has been active in the association's Christmas seal sale, poured. She was assisted by a committee which included Mrs. Meyer Armet, retiring president of the association, Mrs. William Price, Mrs. William W. B. Sutton, and Mrs. Albert H. Walker.

My Neighbor Tells Me... Brown Eggs Often Preferred For Noodles

An egg's an egg, they say, but some still hold out for white against brown. However, there are many old-time cooks who say that brown eggs make the best noodles. Brown eggs are often lower-priced, so if you bake, don't pass them by. Because of their darker yolks, they give baked goods and noodles a richer yellow.

It takes a little practice to make good noodles. But once you get the feel of dough that's properly kneaded and not overburdened with flour, you'll be well on your way to success. When dough is rolled out, place on clean towel over a chair back to dry but not to the point of brittleness or it will break when rolled. More drying is necessary when noodles are cut. If you make more than you need, put them in a paper bag for future use.

NOODLES
1 egg, well beaten
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 eggshell of cold water
1 level teaspoon baking powder
3-4 cup flour to start (1-2 cup if egg is small)
Stir together with fork until mixture forms a ball, then knead in extra flour as necessary to make rather stiff, smooth dough. If dough is too stiff it won't roll properly so don't over-do flour. Roll into thin sheet on floured board. Let dry on a towel about 1-2 hour. Roll up and cut crosswise into thin strips. Shake out loosely so noodles dry thoroughly.

Mrs. Leonard Billings, 3639 Randolph road, whose recipe does not include baking powder, covers her dough with a bowl and lets it rest a few minutes before rolling. If you use noodles instead of potatoes, cut them about 1-4 inch wide, cook in boiling salted water about 20 minutes, drain and butter. Or cook them in soup broth.

RAVIOLI, ITALIAN STYLE DOUGH
2 cups flour
1 egg
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup cold water
Filling:
1 pound ground beef
3-4 cup ground Parmesan cheese
3-4 cup bread crumbs
3-4 pound spinach
1 teaspoon black pepper
Salt and chopped garlic as desired
2 eggs
Dough: Mix flour and salt, make a well in middle, add beaten egg and mix well. Add cold water, mix well. Let stand under cover 1 hour.

Filling: Steam spinach until well done. Drain and squeeze well. Cut in small pieces: Add meat, bread crumbs, cheese, eggs, salt, pepper and garlic; mix well. For extra flavor 1-2 cup Marcella or Vermouth wine can be used.

Divide dough in two portions and roll on floured board to a light cardboard thickness. Spread meat mixture on one layer, wet palm of hand with wine and pat all over the mixture. Wet edges of dough with wine, cover with second layer of dough. Pinch, as for pie.

Using a bevel-edge cutter, cut in squares, about 2-inch square. Cook 15 to 20 minutes in water, salted as required.

Sauce: 1 pound pork, cut in four pieces

Black pepper, salt and garlic as required
1 can tomatoes
1 can tomato paste

Fry pork with seasonings in deep fat until crisp. Mash canned tomatoes in frying pan, add meat and cook 1 hour. Add tomato paste and cook 1 hour longer.

Ex-Waves Plan Third Annual Nat'l Reunion

More than 7000 former WAVES are receiving announcements this week of the third annual national reunion of the WAVES to be held in Boston July 30.

The detailed programs of the reunion, which will also mark the seventh anniversary of the establishment of the WAVES organization, have been sent out by the Reunion Committee headed by Miss Harriet Parker, former WAVES, of 65-A Charles Street, Boston.

A complete list of WAVES no longer on duty in the Navy was not available and the mailing list is therefore incomplete.

The committee urges all WAVES who do not receive announcements to write for details of the reunion to the WAVES Reunion Committee, Box 302, Back Bay Post Office, Boston 17, Mass.

The Reunion Committee includes Lt. Comdr. Elinor Rich, USN, of Brookline, Mass., Honorary Chairman and Assistant (W) to the Commandant of the First Naval District; and Margaret A. Gay, Chief Steno-keeper, USN, of Dorchester, Mass., on duty in the First Naval District; and the following former WAVES, Miss Lillian G. Guard of Garrison Street, Boston, Finance Chairman; Miss Natalie Fultz and Miss Mary Connelly, both of Dorchester; Miss Natalie Hoyt of Brookline; Miss Edith E. Ray of Winthrop, Mass.; Miss Ruth Sullivan of East Braintree, Mass.; Mrs. Amy Shillady of Winchester, Mass.; and Miss Marcia Ludlum of Milton, Mass.

One-Third of Total Population Called "Accident Prone"

One-third of the total population of the United States is responsible for two-thirds of the accidents that kill 100,000 and maim 400,000 people at a cost of approximately five billion dollars each year. These persons are known as "accident prone."

Industrial workers suffer emotional depression for as much as 20 percent of their working time causing more than 50 percent of all accidents. Fatigue plays a part in accidents: by increasing the work day from 10 to 12 hours, the accident rate in one plant rose 250 per cent. Temperature above or below 70 degrees also increased the accident rate in another plant.

Recent studies suggest that room exists for preventative measures to reduce the accident rate, particularly among the "accident prone." Insurance companies and the National Safety Council estimate that between 80 and 87 per cent of all accidents are due to personality disorders and that 98 per cent of all accidents are preventable. The elimination of accidents is therefore closely associated with good mental hygiene, according to the Los Angeles City Board of Health.

Stewart Hamilton, director of the hospital, told of the growth of the hospital and the need for increased facilities. Kenneth R. Mackenzie, chairman for Wellesley in the Building Fund campaign expressed confidence in the success of the campaign and reminded Chairman Hampton that Newton would have to step back if it was going to beat out Wellesley in campaign results.

Thomas B. Shirley, chairman of the campaign advisory committee, introduced Dr. Lahey and after the close of the dinner meeting, the workers and guests adjourned to the school auditorium for a presentation of the playlet, "For Want of a Bed," which was enthusiastically received.

The campaign for $960,000 to complete and furnish the new wing for the hospital is now in full swing. The first public campaign report night was Tuesday, May 3, and other report nights are Wednesday, May 11, and Tuesday, May 17. The Special Gifts, Physicians, Nurses, and Industries and Banks divisions have been at work for the past two or three weeks. The Municipal division is starting this week and the Retail Stores division solicitation will start on Monday, May 9.

Mr. Hampton has urged that the people of Newton be generous, reminding them that while the population has increased 35 percent in the past 20 years, the hospital has not increased its bed space; that this campaign is to raise funds to keep pace with the population growth and that there will probably not be a further capital campaign for another generation.

Assisting in making plans for the dinner was Mrs. Rodney MacPhie in charge of tickets, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Henry Cutler and Mr. Earl E. Chadsey, Jr., helped with decorating and door prizes.

cial speaker and after telling those present of the marvelous strides made in medicine in the past generation said, "Lives are saved in all hospitals that the public never knows anything about. Who in this group will be the next one to have his life saved at Newton-Wellesley Hospital?" He asked, "How can a community arrive without having facilities for hospital care. Without a hospital, no community can maintain the standards of health necessary to survive and exist?" With respect to socialized medicine now being discussed in Washington, Dr. Lahey said, "If hospitals go into the hands of government, we are ruined. The government is just not efficient. You will pay for the cost in taxes but you will not get the service."

President John M. Powell of the hospital stated that on one day within a week the hospital had received 25 replies to a questionnaire sent to patients recently served by Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Twenty-four of these replies, he said, were highly enthusiastic and commended the hospital. The one patient whose reply not favorable stated his dissatisfaction was lack of adequate bed space.

Rev. Wilbur J. Kingwill, rector of St. John's Church, Newtonville, gave the invocation, and Riley Hampton, Newton campus chairman, presided. Dr. T. At Last! Men Are Fashion Conscious

Men's clothing styles have changed very slowly over the past hundred years but there is a real indication this Spring that changes may have to come more rapidly from here on. This is the opinion of the Wool Bureau, based on reports from all parts of the nation which give evidence of growing style consciousness among men.

The recent war has greatly influenced this new tendency. Many men who went to war came back with a much different conception of clothes than they had when they went into uniform. When they brought their first new clothes in the postwar period they were insistent on the need for a summer issue as well as a winter issue of civies. Their service experiences taught them the dividends to be gained in comfort and protection by having different clothes for every season and occasion. This led them, also, to consider the matter of function in connection with clothing design.

These men began to ask questions about fabric weight and quality, weave and wearability. They showed an equal interest, too, in color coordination and standards for good taste in clothing. When they were unable to find the right suit or coat or slacks, after the war, they searched till they found what they wanted or held out until they could get what they were looking for. As a result, designers and stylists of men's clothing began to analyze their creations and to revise their ideas to meet these changing wants and needs. In reality, the men's clothing industry went through a period of purge and came out of it with a whole new gamut of fabrics, styles and comfort-making changes that may speed up the style cycle for a new kind of clothing customer.

B. C. Club of Newton To Present Trophy

The Boston College Club of Newton will present a trophy to the outstanding Boston College hockey player at the Varsity Club dinner to be held at the College Auditorium, May 10 when the Varsity club will honor all spring and winter athletic teams at University Heights.

The trophy, the first annual award to the Eagle hockey player who is outstanding scholastically, athletically and who has best exemplified character, will be presented in the memory of Leo Hughes of the class of 1924.

Considered one of the all time B. C. hockey greats, Hughes lost an eye while playing hockey with the BAA team after graduation from University Heights but his courage and character overcame the handicap. The presentation of the award that will be made annually at the Spring Varsity Club dinners in the future, will be made by Elmer Ross, President of the B. C. club of Newton.

Nurse's Aides Are Urgently Needed To Assist Red Cross

Day-time volunteers in the Nurse's Aide Service of the Red Cross are especially needed. This is the cry of more than 16 local hospitals in Greater Boston.

Under guidance of graduate nurses, Nurse's Aides assist in supplementary nursing care in both federal and civilian hospitals, in clinics and blood centers. The hundred and one ways a Nurse's Aide relieves a nurse for more important duties cannot be imagined.

Because of the continual demand for Nurse's Aides, Miss Dorothy Bartol, chairman of this service of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross, has announced a new class for day-time volunteers beginning Monday, May 16. This class meets Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 1 to three weeks at Chapter Headquarters, 17 Gloucester street, and the last half of the course will meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for actual hospital ward practice.

Somerville women with the desire to help alleviate human suffering, by caring for the sick, the injured and the dying are urged to take this Nurse's Aide course.

"There are many women in Somerville who have a sincere and practical interest in nursing and who have perhaps never before had an opportunity to take part in this profession," said Miss Bartol. "These women we appeal to now. With the background of this intensive Nurse's Aide course they will be able to shorten the time of hospitalization for many patients."

In serving as a Nurse's Aide a woman gains deep personal satisfaction in helping others to health and happiness and also, in the fact that the training she receives as a Red Cross Nurse's Aide can be used throughout her entire life-time, Miss Bartol said.

Local residents interested in this important work should arrange for an appointment immediately with Miss Dorothy Bartol at Chapter House, 17 Gloucester street or by calling KEimore 6-6226.

"Physical examinations now being given to Massachusetts school children are inadequate and do little to assure the children of even the minimum in health protection," Dr. Vlado A. Getting, Commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, said today. "Both parents and children have been misled by such phrases as 'complete physical examination.' The department is convinced that the false sense of security resulting from such meager services, coupled with easy pleasings, is jeopardizing the health of our children and making the work of agencies interested in school health extremely difficult."

"Present laws in this Commonwealth," Commissioner Getting continued, "require yearly physical examinations of school children. An annual physical examination is entirely unnecessary and suggest that through quantity in examinations, better health is to be found. However, separate and careful examinations at longer intervals will allow school physicians to do a more thorough job and thus detect more defects in children and bring about correction of these defects."

Dr. Getting said that he will soon appear before legislative committees and recommend that the findings of the recently completed Recess Commission Report on public health in Massachusetts, headed by State Senator Richard H. Lee of Newton, be written into law. One of the commission's recommendations to the legislature will call for more thorough spaced examinations of children and for the setting up of standards of school children by the Department of Public Health, Department of Education, and members of the medical profession.

Conference examinations that will call for the presence of parents at the examinations to give information on the children that the stethoscope will not detect are also being urged by leaders in the field of school health. This valuable information, combined with a complete physical examination will do much to disclose physical or mental defects in children and permit the parents to take the children to their family physician to cure or halt the disease or defects found.

"This will be only one step in our large program designed to improve and protect the health of our young people," Commissioner Getting pointed out. "The present state of health found in our coming citizens is the cause of greatest concern among those persons who realize the necessity for good health in this country's children. Almost no other field has been so neglected as the field of school health. We must do better by the children we raise. Their teeth are in a deplorable condition; sanitation in their schools is at a distressing low level; their health education is practically non-existent."

"The Massachusetts Department of Public Health is determined to make known to every parent and teacher, every civic leader and taxpayer, through the findings of the Recess Commission Report, the horrible conditions prevailing and through public awareness, rectify them," the Commissioner concluded.

A public hearing on a bill proposed to allow the Department of Public Health after conferring with the Department of Education and members of the medical profession to set up standards for physical examinations of school children is slated to be heard soon before the Committee on Education at the State House.

Newton Federation Of Women's Clubs Elects Mrs. Roger C. Ellis President At Annual Meeting

Mrs. Roger C. Ellis of Newton Centre was elected president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs at their annual meeting Monday afternoon at the Newtonville Woman's Club House. Miss Estelle G. Marsh presided. Elected to serve with Mrs. Ellis were:

First vice-president, Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Charles E. Gibson; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Louis F. Billings; recording secretary, Mrs. John McAuliffe; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Donald MacKenzie; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco; auditor, Mrs. Percival Waters, and directors 1949-52, Mrs. G. I. Whitehead and Mrs. Frank P. Scofield.

A year of progress and accomplishment was reviewed in the annual reports of the officers and chairmen of the Newton Federation. The presentation of "Hazel and Gretel" for the school children, the proceeds of which were used to buy needed equipment for some of the schools, and the Sale for the Blind held last week in Newton Centre were outstanding successes. Many thousands of dollars were donated to philanthropy and scholarships.

Tours-

Newton Highlands, which is to be open to the public on the All-Newton garden tour in mid-May, falls into this latter category. There are those who might have seen no gardening possibilities with such a yard full of rocks. There were those who might have felt discouraged because there were so many trees, or because the back yard went down such a steep incline. The Brailleys solved all these problems by (1) sticking mostly to wild flowers that love the shade and rocks and (2) arranging their garden in a series of terraces, with steps or paths leading down to the next level.

Down one set of steps one finds a delightful woody pool, set against the hill and surrounded by rocks, ferns and other woodland planting. On another terrace is a fireplace with rocks across from it large enough to form seats for the diners. Although winter opens up the view of streets and other neighbors' yards, summertime finds this lovely back yard a veritable woodland retreat, enclosed by oaks and hemlocks. A small yard, it is full of helpful suggestions for others who would have a garden among rocks and shade.

A larger yard with a somewhat hilly problem is seen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gerrity, 99 Farlow Road, Newton. Here it is more open and the visitor is delighted with a view overlooking much of the surrounding countryside. Terraces have again solved the problem of making a bank into an enjoyable garden. Some of the terraces are lined with lilacs which burst into bloom about the middle of May and add their breathtaking loveliness to the view. Toward the end of the lilac bloom come the apple blossoms in the orchard on the bottom terrace, truly a beautiful sight to enjoy from the house and terraces above.

The garden of Dr. and Mrs. William MacDonald, at 170 Lake avenue, Newton Centre, presents another hill problem, in the form of a gentle slope on the shore of Crystal Lake. A path through a small shrub garden at the side leads one down to the lake shore where a practical vegetable garden is set unobtrusively into its surroundings. Nothing is planted in a spectacular manner, yet all sorts of trees and shrubs lend themselves to making the most of the beautiful lake which is their background.

Watch next week for the description of the final three gardens to be open during May for the benefit of the Newton Tribute Foundation.

Benjamin F. Lewis Elected President Of Newton Banker's Association

At the annual meeting of the Newton Bankers' Association held Tuesday at the Brae Burn Country Club, Benjamin F. Lewis, Treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank, was elected President of the Association for the coming year.

Ceremonies To Mark Start Of New Church Parish House Here

The First Church in Newton, which has stood since 1708 on the grassy rise at Homer and Centre Streets, Newton Centre, will have its first alteration in nearly half a century when ground is broken Sunday for a new parish house.

Construction on the two-story stucco addition to the granite Congregational church is to start immediately afterward. The present church edifice was erected in 1904.

The addition, which is to be the first parish house of the Congregational Church will house the religious education offices, scout and activity room and kindergarten room. A spacious living room will be included as a part of the $150,000 renovation and building program which will see the transformation of the church into a center for social activities of the parishioners.

The chapel of the new parish will be known as Brigham Chapel in memory of a church member. A main feature of it will be the large stained glass window designed by the late Charles J. Connick which will be moved from the existing structure to its new location. The church has two other Connick windows. The new chapel is planned principally for small weddings and funerals and will be open daily.

Next to the chapel on the first floor will be the large living room with a fireplace and kitchenette, which will be furnished attractively and comfortably for the use of the different groups among the members.

Twelve of Newton's gardens are to be open to the public. Some are so extensive as to need the services of a gardener all the time; others are small enough so that the owners and creators have done all the work themselves.

Even though you might not be a greenhouse fancier you will be interested to know how green house problems are handled by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Day, at 170 Sargent street, Newton. Here seedlings are raised for their summer estate, houseplants and various types of orchids are grown for winter enjoyment. The latter will probably be dormant, but such things as Anthurium will still be in bloom. Watch also for the Muscadine grape vines which are native from the Potomac River, southward, and —GARDENS—

If You Own Property Jointly with Another

Where husband and wife or any two or more persons hold property in certain forms of joint ownership, they get the benefit of attractive legal and practical advantages.

Yet, taxwise, joint ownership may be costly. The death of one joint owner may force the survivor to pay heavy estate tax assessments or capital gains taxes. The creation of joint ownership sometimes involves a Federal gift tax.

If you have entered into joint ownership without finding out what tax liabilities might result, check with your lawyer now. Joint ownership may be advantageous for you; on the other hand it may be costly. Your lawyer can tell you.

Sunday Schedule Cut On Highland Branch

Discontinuance of four Sunday trains on the Highland branch of the Boston & Albany railroad between Boston and Riverside, and discontinuance of four station agents on the B. & A. on the same branch and main line, were approved by the State Public Utilities Department Monday.

Discontinuance of the ticket agents at the Longwood, Brookline Hills and Reservoir stations on the Highland branch, and at the Allston station on the main line, means that no more tickets may be purchased at those places.

The Public Utilities Department denied the railroad's application to drop ticket sales at the Eliot and Chestnut Hill stations on the Highland branch, and in its order stipulated that all stations must be kept open and heated during the winter months.

The discontinuance of Sunday trains include the following: those leaving Boston Sundays at 10:25 a.m. and 4:45 p.m., and those leaving Riverside at 11:25 a.m. and 6:55 p.m.

It was estimated that the railroad will save $15,000 annually by the order.

some of the new large Iris just coming into bud outside in the shrub border.

The problem of what to do with a steep embankment beside a street and a spacious bit of flat yard at the top was met by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Walker, of 711 Chestnut street, Waban. The narrow street bank at the edge of their property has been beautifully planted and is held in by a retaining wall with cerastium, aubretia, ajuga and other trailing rock garden plants tucked among the rocks. There are the usual display of early flowering bulbs followed by some of the rare tulip varieties such as the candy-stick tulip and some of the choicest types of narcissi. A small path winds upward to a tiny pool set against the rocks and evergreen wall of the upper garden. It continues through this charming spring planting around the corner of the hedge and into the Walkers' "back yard," where other garden surprises await the visitor in a series of garden rooms.

About a mile from the Walkers' garden is the wild garden of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Torborg, 45 Bonnielbrook road, Waban. When the Torborgs bought their home a gnarled old oak tree in the front and a pile of rocks in a corner of the back yard were "presents" from the builder, who had said he wanted to remove both but couldn't be bothered. The Torborgs have built their garden around these two items.

The pile of rocks at the back of their lot became a natural small hill which helps make up the setting for the wild garden. A winding path takes the visitor around a lovely little woodland pool, edged with Iris cristata and ferns and other wild flowers. It leads one up the slight incline toward a bold-headed pine tree, curving just before one reaches the tree and passing groups of clintonia, trillium, hepatica, trailing arbutus and other lovely wild things. Another curve in the path avoids a large mossy gray rock with lady's slippers tucked in beside it before it starts down the miniature hill again and onto the lawn, not more than a hundred feet from where it began.

For the benefit of the Newton Tribute Foundation these and nine other lovely Newton gardens are to be opened to the public: Saturday, May 14 from 11 to 5; Sunday, May 15 from 1 to 5; and Monday, May 16, from 11 to 5. There will be the gardens of: Mr. and Mrs. D. Allen Smith, 225 Arnold road, Oakhill Village; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Locke, 31 Fox Lane, Oakhill Village; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Day, Jr., 170 Sargent street, Newton; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gerrity, 69 Farlow road, Newton; Dr. and Mrs. William MacDonald, 170 Lake avenue, Newton Centre; Library planting at the Newton Centre Library; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Billingsley, 58 Westminster road, Newton Centre; Mr. and Mrs. K. Bachrack, 128 Highland street, West Newton; and Dr. and Mrs. Allen G. Bralley, 1308 Walnut street, Newton Highlands. To facilitate finding these gardens a small map indicating locations and directions will be given with each ticket.

This "Open-garden" weekend is being given for the benefit of the Newton Tribute Foundation, to further the plantings of shrubs and trees along Commonwealth avenue. Those already established, with their theme of laurel and hemlocks, have come through their first few seasons remarkably well, with few replacements. As was planned originally the Foundation would like to finish up these first three plantings designed as a tribute to men and women who served in the war and begin on the three others. There is to be one at Washington street and Commonwealth avenue; one at Auburn street, Auburndale; and at Lake street, the state, a study of the recreation department in relation to the schools, and work by the building committee to further the progress of the school building program in the city.

Dr. Anderson, in bringing the good wishes of the School Department and School Committee to the Council, congratulated the council on its coming of age. The maturity of the organization, Dr. Anderson pointed out, is shown by the respect it receives in the community; by the fact that it asks no favors for any individual but for the good of our children in general; and by its influence on the School Building program in Newton.

Other features of the meeting included a report of the Curriculum Committee recommending more thorough parental knowledge of school curricula, especially on the secondary levels; and a talk by a representative of the Newton Teachers Federation on the Federal Aid to Education bill.

The dinner preceding the meeting was served in the newly decorated Hyde School Cafeteria. Music was provided by the String Quartet, members of the Hyde School sixth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Abele.

Annual Meeting Of Lucy Jackson Chapter Is Held

Monday afternoon, May 9, the annual meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter was held at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls. A beautiful day brought out a goodly attendance.

In the absence of the regent, the first vice-regent, Mrs. Gustav A. Hagen, presided. After devotionals committee monthly reports were given. Ballots were cast resulting in the re-election of Mrs. Charles W. Blood as treasurer and Mrs. Edward H. Lotz as assistant treasurer. Several new directors also were elected for various terms of office. Mrs. Hagen gave an informal but highly interesting account of her days as delegate to the Continental Congress held in Washington in April. She told of the new library located in Memorial Hall, one of the finest genealogical libraries in the United States. She also spoke of the enthusiasm over the new building project and the progress and success in raising funds for the same. Massachusetts chapters are taking a prominent part in this drive. Mrs. Henry A. Perry, another delegate to the congress, read a copy of the inspiring speech given before that vast assemblage by the able president general of the D.A.R., Mrs. Roscoe C. O'Byrne.

Annual reports of the chapter were given by committee chairmen. The registrar, Mrs. J. Walter Allen, reported two new active members and one associate member. Several gifts to the chapter were reported by Mrs. J. P. Holmes notably a beautiful silver dish given in memory of Mrs. Frank M. Sherman long a valued member of the chapter.

The following were elected delegates to the State Fall Conference to be held in Swampscott next October: Mrs. James G. Patterson, Mrs. Gustav A. Hagen, Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury and Mrs. Henry A. Perry. Alternates: Mrs. Holcomb J. Brown, Mrs. John P. Holmes, Mrs. Edward B. Parker, Miss Jane D. Hobart, Mrs. Henry E. Johnson, Mrs. Charles W. Blood, Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney and Mrs. Benjamin G. Rae.

Activities of the chapter will continue through the Summer but the next regular meeting will not be until October. June 7, a picnic will be held at the home of Mrs. Gustav A. Hagen, 131 Otis Street, Newtonville, to which members and guests are invited. A visit will be made to "Hillside School" on June 9, several members of the chapter planning to go, and a Garden Card party will be held on the chapter grounds June 15. Through July, August and September Open House will be observed on the first Thursday afternoon of each month when guests will be welcomed.

Mrs. William Carroll Hill and Mrs. Nathaniel L. Thompson were co-chairmen of the com-

of the church since 1936. "At any rate, that is the type of equipment we want in it."

The minister explained that the chapel and living room are purposely designed to be used as a unit in the case of weddings and receptions so that a young couple can be married "without mortgaging their first year of married life to do it."

The parish house, it is felt, will be an opportune place for new members to make new acquaintances. Many new members of the church are from out of state.

The new addition was designed by the firm of Collins, Willis and Beckonert of Boston, architects. The senior partner, Charles Collins, is a resident of Newton Centre. The firm designed the Newton War Memorial-City Hall.

Ferdinand B. Brigham, chairman of the building committee, will turn the first spadeful of earth at the ceremonies Sunday which follow the regular 11 o'clock service at which Dr. Boynton will preach.

David W. Tibbott, moderator of the church, will preside at the ground-breaking ceremonies. Halvor B. Seward is chairman of the Memorial Fund committee which has already raised more than two-thirds of the funds required for building and alterations. The rest is expected to be raised during the eight-month period before completion of the parish house.

The combined choir, directed by Ralph MacLean, will participate in the open-air service at which the minister will offer the prayer.

mittee of ladies who served tea in the social hour closing the meeting, with Mrs. Laurence A. Sprague and Miss Francis E. Tower as pourers.

Newtonville Girl Scout Circus Plans Completed

Plans for the 6th annual Newtonville Girl Scout Trading post and circus are practically complete, according to Mrs. Harlan Meserve, chairman of the Newtonville Girl Scouts.

The Captain Anderson Circus of trained animal acts will present three shows Saturday, May 14, at the High School drill shed. Herb Taylor, the famous clown is coming from St. Louis to provide further entertainment for and with the children in the audience. There will be other circus atmosphere such as pony rides, balloons, ice cream and soft drinks. Tickets for the circus are being sold by all Newtonville Girl Scouts, but will also be available at the entrance to the circus.

The trading post is organized by the troop leaders of Newtonville. Ticket and circus chairmen from the troops are Mrs. Russell Fitz, George Quinn, Arnold Joyce, Kenneth Conover, P. Monroe, A. C. Kleinman, Frances Rothwell, J. Gellner, L. Kruger, Charles Perkins and H. J. Van Kuren. Mrs. Walter Mueller is general chairman for the circus event with Mrs. Ivan Geiger in charge of local contacts and arrangements. Mrs. Charles Scipione on printing and publicity and Mrs. Clarence Wentworth, Treasurer.

$20,000 Gift Given To Hospital Fund

A gift of $20,000 to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Building Fund has been received from a resident of Newton who has made the gift anonymously. This gift is the largest received in the present campaign and was announced Monday by Warren E. Lincoln, Chairman of the Special Gifts Division. One gift of $5,000 and three gifts of $3,000 have been received during the past week.

Fifteen additional gifts of from $1,000 to $2,500 have also been received, and indications from the Special Gifts Division are that there are many more gifts of substantial size which will come in during the next week. Subscriptions obtained other than those reported above include $10,000 from the Hospital Aid Association and $21,946 from the Physicians' Committee.

In acknowledging these gifts, Riley Hampton, Newton Campaign Chairman, stated, "We are most grateful for these generous contributions. The actions prompting them indicate that Newton-Wellesley Hospital has friends who are willing to show in a material way their gratitude for services rendered to them, their neighbors and friends and their appreciation for our unusually fine community hospital."

At a meeting of Special Gifts Chairmen held at Brae Burn Country Club Monday evening, the Village Chairmen reported that the results so far obtained are encouraging. There are, however, a large number of donors in the previous campaign who have not indicated their subscriptions to the present campaign. Success of the Special Gifts Division results will depend largely on the help that this group gives to the present campaign.

At the meeting of the Public Campaign leaders held at the Simpson House Tuesday, emphasis was laid on the necessity of the solicitors making their calls promptly and emphasizing the importance of their promoting pledges on the six payment plan.

Oak Hill Strike Settled Quickly

A strike of workers at the Oak Hill Veterans' Housing Development was settled without any serious work stoppage this week, after employees of the Warren Roads Company, members of the A.F. of L. laborers Union walked off the job because the firm was employing non-union help.

Thomas Sampson, general manager of the firm, stated that the non-union men were hired because all the company's union help was employed either in Newton or elsewhere. A meeting with union officials resulted in a promise by the company to employ union help as fast as it was located.

The stocking of most of Newton's ponds was undoubtedly create enthusiasm for fishing inasmuch as this city offers unusual opportunities for sport fishing in a fun producing facility in the great outdoors, for youth, in their respective communities.

Such recreational privileges are most beneficial in building vigorous bodies, healthy minds and strong character in our young people.

Several boys and girls, of Newton, also witnessed the stocking and indicated their great interest in the fact that fishing was being perpetuated as a sport.

Fishing is fun for everyone.

Bikes Figure In Accidents

The first summer weather of the season brought an increase in the number of bicycle accidents this week, according to Newton Traffic Bureau officials. One lad, who escaped injury, himself, lost his license earlier in the week for operating his bicycle at a fast speed coming out of an intersection so fast that a car coming along, was forced to hit a pole avoiding him. Several children in the car were thrown to the floor. The boy's mother requested the official punishment.

B., Harvard, as director of the Day Play Camp to be conducted this summer on the Concord Avenue (Cambridge) campus of the school. Two play fields, jungle gyms, complete game and sports equipment—all geared to very young children—with the full supervision and direction of a thoroughly experienced director and staff make a special appeal to parents who wish their children to enjoy a happy, healthful program near home during July and August, 9 to 3:30 p.m., daily except Saturdays and Sundays.

The Newton High School has this week received from the College of Liberal Arts of Syracuse University the following copy of a letter sent to the parents of Robert L. Lurensky, Saul Quint, and Robert Shaw, former graduates of the Newton High School, classes of 1946 and 1945:

"While Syracuse University has grown to be a very large family, we have still retained the spirit of the intimate family group which we had when the enrollment was much less. When a member of this family is cited for distinguished academic work, we feel the parents should have a large measure of the credit."

"Your son maintained a 'B' average during the first term of 1948-1949. We stand with you, sharing in a small way, the pride that comes with outstanding academic work."

860 Beacon street, early Sunday morning. VanWart was charged with operating under the influence of liquor and drunkenness in Newton District Court Monday and Judge Donald E. Mayberry continued the case for a week. The parked car belonged to John Cusick of Arlington. VanWart was taken to the Newton Wellesley Hospital by Patrolman George Veducchio and Paul Doran, treated for his injuries and discharged. Both cars were wrecked and had to be towed away. Sgt. William H. Dowling and Patrolman John W. Foley investigated the case. Firemen of Engine 3 were called to the scene to wash away gasoline spilled from the crash.

Douglas Rutherford was also born and raised in Minnesota and was educated at Carleton College and Minnesota College of Law. After finishing his education he received invaluable experience by being in turn a professional football player, a farmer, a fireman, a sailor, a copywriter, and an ad-

News From The State House

By HELEN L. RING

Newton May 12 jdm The doors of the House of Representatives were locked Monday at 1 o'clock so that members could continue their work efficiently and speedily. They were not allowed to leave. There is a great deal of work yet to be done. Only 100 members were present on the floor of the House at 1:30.

A debate was held on the floor of the Senate Wednesday afternoon lasting one hour on H. 333, a petition for repeal of the law authorizing use for motor vehi-the senate voted to repeal the law.

H. 2412 increasing the tax imposed by the State on amounts wagered at horse and dog racing meetings conducted under the pari-mutual or certificate system was given a 3rd reading with an amendment attached, engrossed under suspension of rules and sent to the House for action. There was some objection to the amendment not being printed. The objection was made on the grounds the senate should go slow and know what they are voting for and the items contained in the amendment. This bill will add about one million dollars more of revenue.

The State Senate was engrossed and sent to the House for action the State Budget calling for an expenditure of 271 million dollars for the year starting July 1st. It includes 67 million dollars the state will distribute to cities and towns to assist them to reduce their tax rate about $2.00. The Republican floor leader of the Senate offered an amendment to the NYNH&H R.R. (Old Colony Division) allowance of $11,000 to $10,000. This brought many Democrats on their feet in protest. Sen. Powers accused the Republican, pointing at Senator Richard H. Lee of Newton who spoke in favor of cutting the amount, that his party (Republican) received $7.00 per hour for such work and that Sen. Lee has no kick coming. Four amendments were down with several Republicans joining. The budget was engrossed and sent to the House for action. On Wednesday the House on voice vote sent it back to the Senate because they refused to concur in Senate amendments. The amendments had added $167,000, the items being MDC for sewer projects and the $15,000 for litigation in the Old Colony R.R.

The 100 million dollar bond issue was passed in the House without much debate. It will now be heard in the Senate today or Monday of next week.

The bill for an additional 21 million dollars for State Aid for schools was heard on Monday before the committee on education. Prof. Simpson of Harvard, Alexander Brin, Prof. Pitkin, Wm. J. O'Keefe and many others spoke in favor. The bill was opposed by the City of Newton. They called the measure to "take from the rich and give to the poor," and it is to aid cities in procuring more teachers. Also opposed to the bill was the Town Accountant for the Town of Lexington. He said he did not oppose the increase in teachers pay but he didn't see where 40 million dollars was coming from.

—A sponge was carried by Roman soldiers as a drinking vessel.

LOUIS VASSALOTTI, treasurer of the Riverside Sand and Gravel Company, a patient at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, hands pledge cards for $3,000 to Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, member of the Industries and Banks Committee of the Hospital's Building Fund Campaign which seeks $960,000 to complete and equip the new wing.

Considering Plans For Establishment Of W. Newton Jewish Community Center

For the first time in its history, West Newton will have its own Jewish Community Center, if present plans of several dozen families who have so far expressed interest in it are completed.

As the result of the organizing activities of several who thought there was need for such a Center, nearly 150 attended a general meeting on April 26 at Odd Fellows Hall at 15 Southgate Park in West Newton. The consensus of sentiment gave as primary needs a Sunday school for school-age children, and social and cultural activities for older children and adults.

Charles Kaufman of 41 Lodge road, one of the originators of the program who was named temporary chairman, explained that, although the organization would probably carry the name of the "West Newton Jewish Community Center," membership in it would be open to persons from such nearby communities as Auburndale, Newtonville, Waban, Newton Corner, Newton Upper and Lower Falls and Newton Highlands.

Other temporary officers are: vice chairman, Mrs. Morris Goldstein, 29 Farmington road; treasurer, William Spiel, 10 Dana road; financial secretary, Morris Goldstein; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles Kaufman; recording secretary, Mrs. Edward B. Rosenwald, 14 Lodge road.

Non-Newton 'Vet' Group Selling Ball Tickets Here

William J. Maloney, chairman of the United Veterans' Organization, has advised all Newton Citizens that the present telephone campaign, soliciting the sale of tickets for a military ball, sponsored by a so-called Veteran Organization, is in no way connected with any Newton Veterans' Organization.

This so-called veterans organization, after having been investigated, was found to be semi-veteran, and has never been recognized by Congress. This organization sponsoring this affair, is located outside the city, and is not eligible for membership in any United Veteran Organization, chairman Maloney said.

Mrs. Wallace M. Ross Elected Pres.

The Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church of Newtonville held its annual meeting at the church on Wednesday, May 4. The business meeting was conducted by the President, Miss Louise Weatherbee. After the meeting, luncheon was served to 160 members and their guests. The luncheon committee was headed by Mrs. Leon White and Mrs. Frank Warren. The afternoon program was in charge of Mrs. Harold Lounsbury.

Mr. Bradford Blake played piano selections, and then with his accordion led the group in the singing of some old songs. Through her humorous column, "My Day," Mrs. Gorham Harris solved some weighty problems of members of the Association. Douglas Buff entertained the group with original "Piano Stylings" of selections by George Gershwin and Cole Porter. The afternoon ended with the reading of a clever one act play "Joint Owners in Spain" by Alice Brown, the parts being taken by Mrs. Frederick Caswell, Mrs. Grace Folk, Mrs. Randolph Merrill and Mrs. Lorraine Holmes.

The following were elected as officers and directors for the season 1949-1950:

Wonderland to Open Season Monday

Monday night Wonderland in Revere will launch on its 15th annual greyhound race meeting under the auspices of the Revere Racing Association. At present, fifty-one world famous kennel owners are schooling their racing stars in quest of the rich Stake and Championship races that will be run nightly during the 100 night meeting.

Group One from the W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church met with Mrs. Arthur Joslin, 73 Marion street, Brookline, yesterday afternoon at 1:30.

Proposed Sports Arena Is Opposed

Monday night about five hundred residents of Auburndale attended the meeting of the Board of Aldermen to support two zoning petitions seeking to limit the activities of Norumbega Park and prevented the proposed erection of a sports arena there. The hearing was conducted jointly by the Claims and Rules Committee and the Planning Board.

Final action on the matter will not be taken until after the Planning Board submits its report with the Claims and Rules Committee and the latter group sends its recommendation to the full board of Aldermen.

In presenting the case for the petitioners, Charles E. Hughes introduced several residents who favored the two petitions. Representing the Norumbega Park Corporation was James M. Graham who presented a petition signed by one thousand school children opposing the changes. The Auburndale Village Improvement Association, through its chairman Lowell D. MacNutt, reported that his organization supported the petitioners.

Mr. Hughes charged that the temper of activities at Norumbega Park has been stepped up under the present ownership and that the people of Auburndale are now aroused as never before. Herbert N. McGill, one of the petitioners, stated that the expansion of any industrial zone results in the dropping of the value of the residential section and pointed out that Auburndale is almost 100 per cent residential. James Cardell, another Auburndale resident, stated that residents of the area have been subjected to major annoyances, including the sounds from circuses, fireworks, penny sales, outings and mechanical contraptions.

C. H. Bierman of 1945 Commonwealth avenue asserted that the proposed area would increase parking, traffic and accidents in the district.

Earl D. Wood of 20 Buffield road, contended that the possibility of undesirable persons gaining control of the project if it proved unprofitable at first should be taken into consideration.

Mr. Graham contended that the land under discussion is now being used for the same purpose as that of 27 years ago and stated Mr. Gill, the owner, has complied with all the requirements of the city government. He further stated that no beer is sold or permitted in the park and that Mr. Gill pays for proper policing of the area. He pointed out that the land is unsuited for residential purposes and stated that the city would be obliged to provide many additional services if dwellings are built on the land.

Rep. Howard Whitmore, Jr., speaking for the Newton group sponsoring the proposed arena asserted that he was neither opposed nor in favor of the petitions. He stated that his group wished to provide facilities for Newton youth, which the city cannot now provide and contended there was a need for additional indoor facilities, including a skating rink and a swimming pool.

Mrs. Alfred Weaver reported a similar theft from her car the same night while it was in the garage of her home at 12 Warwick road, West Newton.

Police also received complaints that garbage is being collected by unauthorized persons in Newton Centre between 12 and 2 a. m. in the morning.

Others who may know of prospects that would like to make subscriptions to the campaign are also asked to call the Building Fund office. Mr. Hampton, in a statement made this week, said, "In our campaign for the Building Fund it has been impossible to obtain sufficient manpower to

Police Chief Purcell Warns Local Motorists

Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department, in cooperation with the Massachusetts Safety Council is issuing a warning to local motorists. Now that spring is here and most of us are getting our cars in shape for the coming summer, there are a few things that Chief Purcell would like to have every driver in Newton check.

See that your car is safe mechanically, have your breaks and lights tested, be sure your tail-light is working, check your windshield wiper and rear vision mirror. Be sure that you have your 1949 sticker properly displayed. Be sure that your car is safe to drive and be sure you yourself are familiar with road signs. If people would only realize that road signs are really "Signs of Life." There aren't many to memorize but each has a meaning.

Kiwanis Club Will Endorse Campaign

With Kiwanis Clubs throughout New England endorsing the $11,500,000 Children's Medical Center Fund Campaign, Newton Kiwanians supporting the fund-raising drive will meet next Wednesday, May 25 noon, in the YMCA building, 276 Church St., to discuss the drive.

More than 60 Newton business and professional members of the local Kiwanis Club are expected to hear the urgent hospital needs outlined at this meeting by Dr. Paul K. Losch, 21 King St., Auburndale, chief of the dental service department at Children's Hospital. In charge of the meeting will be Francis V. Terry of 246 Walnut St., Newtonville.

Dr. Losch will explain how tremendous world-wide demands on the famous hospital have overtaxed its personnel and facilities, necessitating a new Medical Center building now to relieve these conditions.

In 1948, Children's Hospital admitted 9,645 bed patients, although its maximum bed capacity is only 345 beds. Overcrowding and waiting lists are delaying admission of many children, except in emergency cases.

Bishop Confirms 21 Candidates

Bishop Norman Nash made an Episcopal visitation to the Parish of the Messiah, Auburndale, and confirmed 21 candidates presented by the Rector, Rev. Richard P. McClintock in impressive confirmation rites on Sunday, May 15. Milton Saville, Student Minister, read the Lesson.

Because of a throat irritation the Bishop was forced to forego his scheduled sermon and instead the Rector preached on the topic "Three Big Words — the Baptismal vows" in which he analyzed in detail the three fundamental Christian vows to renounce certain things, believe certain things, and do certain things.

On Sunday, May 22 at 8 a.m. there will be a corporate Communion for the members of the 1949 class and their families. Certificates of Confirmation will be presented at the Altar during the service. Breakfast will be served in the Church Parlor following the service.

Highland Glee Club Again Wins Honors

The Highland Glee Club under the direction of D. Ralph MacLean, again distinguished itself in the annual contest of the New England Federation of Mens' Glee Clubs, by winning first place in the group for clubs of over fifty members. The contest was held last Saturday afternoon in the City Hall auditorium in Portland, Maine. Each club sang the prize song, which was "The Pilgrim" by Edwin Karhu, and a song of their own choosing, and were judged according to interpretation, intonation, technique, tone, and general effect.

A banquet was held after the contest, and in the evening there was a concert given by the combined clubs, numbering about three hundred voices. The program was one of great variety.

News From The State House

By HELEN L. RING

The General Court had a busy and exciting week. The work load is being dispensed with rapidly and efficiently, with less debate, debating when they must with careful consideration, democrats joining the republicans and vice versa.

Governor Dever received an other set back and disappointment upon his return to the State House this week. His request for a 2 per cent tax on income of corporations, business, and 1 per cent tax on the utility corporations, 2 per cent public service corporations was turned down by the House by a Republican-Democratic coalition. If this taxation bill passed it would meet the cost of old age assistance necessitated by increases in the number of applicants, to pay the increases in salaries of underpaid state employees, and the treatment of the mentally and chronically ill.

The Governor has now two very important bills to sign, the $100 million dollar bond issue and the budget of $271 million dollars. He may take the right to veto the $67 million dollar amendment for distribution to the cities and towns without effecting the remainder of the bill.

The Committee on Taxation reported favorably on Gov. Dever's proposal to place a one per cent excise tax on the sale of new and used automobiles. This taxation is expected to bring in about two to three million dollars annually. The bill calls for payment of taxes only on the actual sale price of a car and does not include accessories.

Sen. Richard H. Lee reported his opposition. Other bills on taxation will soon be reported out from this committee.

A hearing was held before the Committee on Education on a bill to allow children in public schools to be separately and carefully examined at intervals as may be determined by the department of public health in cities and towns. This bill has been before the General Court last year. Dr. Ernest Morris of Newton, Dr. Gettings and Sen. Lee spoke in favor of the bill. James L. Heggie, Legislative Agent for the Christian Scientists opposed the bill.

A lively debate on the floor of the Senate on bill sponsored by the Mass. Selectmen's Association Inc. that the annual tax bills of cities and towns state the proportionate part of the tax rate assessed for schools, was killed, vote 17-12. The other bills of similar nature, one filed by the Mass. Mayors Association that provision be made for separate tax bills for the support of public schools, and the other filed by City Manager of Cambridge.

The bill to provide for a bipartisan count of ballots in all cities and towns at State elections was beaten, 11-12.

A very serious debate on the bill prohibiting hairdressing schools charging for services or materials used in connection with hairdressing or mannequin took place on the floor of the Senate. The democratic floor leader opposed several of the democrats who were against the bill. The Committee on Public Health reported leave to withdraw on the petition of Mass. Cosmetologists. Further debate will be heard on Thursday. There are 25 schools in the State and most schools require a tuition fee of $50.

The bill to increase unemployment compensation benefits to $30 a week for 40 weeks was defeated in the Senate. The present scale is $25 a week for 23 weeks.

The bill authorizing the City

Newton Council Of Church Women

The annual meeting of the Newton Council of Church Women was held on Monday afternoon, May 16th, at Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Horace W. Briggs of Newtonville, president; Mrs. Philip W. Dalrymple of Newton Centre, vice-president; Miss Ethel Woodberry of Newtonville, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill of Newtonville. The new chairman of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. William R. Beil of Waban, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Jigger of West Newton, Miss Margaret S. Ball of Newton, Mrs. Ann Gordon of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Stephen Simpson of Auburndale.

Dr. Harold W. Tribble, president of Andover-Newton Theological School, spoke of "Freedom's Foundation — The Christian Home".

make calls on every home. We have built up a large and impressive prospect list and pledge cards covering the names on this list have been issued for each village. Some of the villages are still lacking manpower to cover all the cards that have been issued. Others have the manpower but have as yet not completed their calls. By the time this notice appears in the press it would seem that the most prospects should have been called on. However, to be sure that no one is missed, we would appreciate telephone calls or letters from all interested prospects who have not heard from members of our campaign organization.

Glee Club—

It included songs by Burrell, Balestrina, Schubert, Mozart, Arthur Foote, and many others. One of the most thrilling moments of the concert was occurred when the men were accompanied by the magnificent Cyrus Curtis memorial organ in the singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

Soloist of the evening was Nora Garner Riggs, Soprano, who was heard with the Highland Glee Club several years ago when they gave a joint concert in Melrose with the Amphion Club and the Wollaston Glee Club. The concert was broadcast through station WPOP, and recordings are to be made of several of the songs.

of Newton to sell 20,000 sq. ft. land now used as a playground on Winchester St. was given a 3rd reading and engrossed. It will now go to the House for action. The selling price is $4,000. This money will be used for other playground purposes according to law.

At last the women of the Commonwealth of Mass. have won a long and lasting fight to win the approval of the legislature to allow them to serve on the jury. The bill was passed in the House on Wednesday.

OUR READERS SAY

Motorists of this city and of the Commonwealth can at least be assured of new modern highways because of the passage of the $100,000,000 Highway Bill by both the House and Senate.

Work on the various projects outlined in Gov. Bradford's plan of last year would be underway right now had not a willful group of the present Governor's own party in the Senate blocked the enactment of the bond issue last June.

As Republicans, my party and I could have played the same sordid game this year and prevented a Democratic administration from reaping a road program which the Republicans last year sowed. However, we rejected such a course in favor of the public interest and the needs of all the people.

Under this bill, which is practically the same as last year's bill, $33,000,000 will be spent outside the Metropolitan District, $45,000,000 within the Metropolitan district and $2,000,000 is allocated to each of four districts: (1) west of the Connecticut River, (2) between that river and the eastern boundary of Worcester County (3) Middlesex, Essex and Norfolk Counties, (4) the southern counties.

As your representative, I have frequently criticized Governor Dever for his unfair MTA program, his proposed additional taxes, especially those of the "soak the poor" variety and other maneuvers which I believe are not good for the people of this community. Although I believe my constituents wish me to oppose bad legislation, I am equally desirous of supporting any bill which seems to be for the public good. This highway program, originated by Republicans this year is just that. I believe I carried out the wishes of all my constituents in speaking for it and voting for it in the House.

It is my hope that there will now be a chance of the state taking Route 128 out of Newton, which I have been trying to accomplish for several years, and for which I filed a bill this year.

Newcomers' Club

About seventy members of the Newton Newcomers' Club were favored by a pleasant day when they journeyed to The Meadows in Framingham on Wednesday afternoon, May 19th, for their annual spring luncheon. Arrangements for the delightful occasion were in charge of Mrs. Fred G. Woolf, social chairman. The tables were attractively decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Mathias J. Flaherty, president, welcomed the members who were in attendance.

The club will hold its next regular meeting May twentieth at the Newton Highlands Workshop.

Gezork stated, "Germany actually was not much damaged, therefore she was able to recover much faster than today, in view of the fact that during World War II every city was damaged to the extent of 85 to 90% in land and buildings. He went to Germany in 1945 as an adviser to this government. From talking with industrialists he gathered it would take Germany almost 200 years to recover and actually come back to where they would be industrially strong. He did not believe Germany would ever come back in view of the fact that they depended upon the west to sell their products and in view of the iron curtain they are not able to compete with France and other countries, so are in a very bad economic dilemma."

Country Fair At Grace Church

Grace Episcopal Church in Newton is holding a Country Fair on Saturday, May 21. Several large tents will be erected on the church property at Church and Eldredge streets to shelter some of the tables, while other booths are to be set up in the parish house. Chairmen of the Country Fair are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Colburn of Newton Centre.

At 10 o'clock on Saturday morning the gates of the fair will open. Lunch may be bought from a snack bar operated by Julius W. Kohler; and dinner will be served in the evening by a committee under the direction of Mrs. George H. Larsen. Following dinner there is to be a program of amateur and professional skits staged under the direction of Frederick W. Dauten.

new schedules of rates to become effective June 1, which will apply to gas heating customers only.

The proposed new rates call for an increase of 1 cent per 100 cubic feet of gas normally used for heating purposes and would affect only about 6 percent of B.C.G.'s total of 300,000 customers. No increases are proposed for gas normally used for cooking, water heating, refrigeration and other general uses.

In filing the new rate schedules, Mr. Eacker explained that the Gas Company's house heating service made it necessary for the company to build and maintain extra production facilities for taking care of peak cold weather loads. These additional facilities would not be needed, he pointed out, to serve other general customers. Under the present rates, he said, operation of the house heating facilities showed insufficient return on this investment. He estimated that the new rates will bring in additional gross revenue of $394,073 a year before Federal income taxes, or $244,325 net revenue, after present Federal income taxes.

Warns-

proach to a railroad crossing. It is your Alert signal—heed it.

Oblong—for most regulatory signs. These signs are backed by law as well as a lot of common sense.

Diamond-Shaped signs warn you of dangerous, or potentially dangerous conditions, directly ahead.

Eight-Sided signs mean STOP. Too often this is interpreted as a "slow-down" sign which it isn't.

Crossbuck means that you're at a highway-rail crossing. Check ALL tracks for trains and then proceed.

Of course we are all familiar with the electric traffic signal with its yellow-green and red lights.

Red-Stop—always. Flashing red—Intersection at which a driver must stop before entering.

A yellow light alone—or with green—if waiting driver must remain standing. If proceeding on green he must stop if this can be done with safety.

A flashing yellow—Proceed slowly. A flashing green—Slowly—get ready to stop if this signal changes.

Again—Signs have a meaning. They are truly "Signs of Life."

When a Boy Dreams of Manhood!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

If you drive a Cadillac, the sketch above tells a story. Somewhere on the streets or highways you bring your car to a velvety stop to give a "lift" to a youngster whose thumb is pointed the same way you are—and you watch his face light up as he settles down beside you.

"Boy, a Cadillac!" You know, without asking, what is going through his head. He's dreaming of the day when he himself grows up to man's estate and has a Cadillac of his own.

It is only natural, of course, that Cadillac should occupy this unique place of honor in the dreams and aspirations of American youth—for Cadillac is the only car in America whose name and crest have been reserved exclusively for cars of the very highest character. It is the only fine-car name that has meant the same—for decades after decades.

This year, the Cadillac name has a special luster—for Cadillac cars are powered by a great new V-type engine—the creative masterpiece of Cadillac's renowned engineering division. Performance is so brilliant, from every standpoint that it simply must be experienced in order to be believed.

Why not experience it yourself? You are welcome in our showrooms at any time.

Use Quick Annuals For Pergola

Our back yard has no trees, so we have constructed a good-sized pergola. Is there any vine which will produce shade this summer? We intend the pergola as a place for the children to play. A flower-producing vine would be a pleasure but it isn't a necessity.

Mrs. T. M. No woody vine will grow sufficiently to cover the pergola so it will be necessary to use annual vines. Fastest growing is probably the Japanese morning glory. In addition, I suggest that you use some scarlet runner beans, a few hyacinth beans, some heavenly blue morning glories and moon flowers.

For a permanent vine, to cover the pergola in two or three years time, you can use wisteria, silver lace vine or our native bittersweet. Planting should be done in April or early in May.

This vine, sample enclosed, grows very rapidly. Can you tell me what it is and what will kill it without hurting flowers?

D. D. Your vine is the common chickweed. In the lawn it can be controlled by spraying with 2,4-D. In the garden, you'll have to hoe it out.

On one side of our property is a stone wall which we wish to hide. Would you recommend the Memorial rose? If so, at what planting distance?

E. W. The Memorial rose would cover well but something that would root into the wall would be preferable. If the wall is in a sunny spot, English ivy won't do. The winter creeper sold as Euonymus mus coloratus is relatively fast growing, easy to propagate and will eventually smother out grass. If you want roses, use some of the Austrian briars instead of the climbing type.

I had a Von Ehron juniper set about three years ago. The shrub was very green then but the following fall it turned brown and has stayed that way. What will make it green again? Apparently it has no insects.

T. M. Your shrub may be suffering from an insufficient root system, an infestation of juniper scale or inadequate sunlight. If it is entirely brown, it is dead beyond recall. Juniper scale can be controlled by spraying with wettable DDT or parathion. It should be sprayed about mid-April and twice again at 10-day intervals.

My lawn is filled with crab grass. Can I use ammonium nitrate? I thought I'd rake out the crab grass as much as possible and sow seed.

G. F. A complete fertilizer such as 4-12-4 or 4-12-8 is better than ammonium nitrate, but if you already have it, use it. Not more than one-quarter to one-half pound to 100 square feet of soil surface. Don't rake out the tops of the old crab grass. The seed is already shaken out so you'll gain nothing. Anyway, the tops will decay and furnish organic matter. Unless the grass has bare spots as large as two hands, don't bother to reseed; it will grow out over the bare spots.

Theodore M. Reed of 94 Madison avenue passed away May 23. Services were private and a request was made that flowers be sent to St. John's Memorial Fund, Lowell avenue, rather than to the family.

Here's a marvelous food mart that has been carefully planned for your convenience. First and foremost they have shelves and shelves of grand groceries. There's a splendid meat department and a mouth waterin' delicatessen. Vegetables, luscious and fresh, are kept that way by being lightly sprinkled with water every hour. In the dairy section you will find eggs less than 24 hours old and chickens freshly killed. There's a multitude of frozen foods and even patent medicines. As for ice cream, it is all homemade and the most delicious I have ever tasted. Needless to say, the Oakley Food Mart is an all in one shop that will save you plenty of precious time. It's self-service, too, which is always good news.

Newton High School To Have Annual Pops Night Saturday

Newton High School will enjoy its fourth annual night at Pops this Saturday evening. The demand for nights at Pops by various organizations in New England far exceeds the number of available evenings; however, on the strength of its past successes, Newton High has again been granted the privilege of having their special event.

Leo Litwin, famed musician, will be the feature soloist.

The entire first and second balconies, plus three hundred additional seats on the floor were made available for the teachers and students of Newton; that means that well over one thousand seat were allotted. An invitation to share in the special program was extended by the High School to all other schools in the Newton system.

Give Spring Dance Demonstration

The Spring Dancing Demonstration of the Afternoon Dancing Groups of the West Newton Community Centre, Inc., was held in the Davis School assembly hall last Thursday afternoon, under the leadership of Miss Esther M. Kelly. The pianists were Mrs. Ralph Somers and Mrs. Newell Trask. Assisting the afternoon groups, representative members of the Sixth Grade Social Dancing Group, and the Junior High School Tap Dance Group took part.

Recreation Department Issues Regulations On Use Of Crystal Lake

The Newton Recreation Department calls attention of the Newton citizens to three very important regulations concerning use of Crystal Lake.

Within the past few weeks, probably due to the very fine summer weather which has been with us, many persons have been guilty of violation of Rules 13, 15 and 16.

Abutters on Crystal Lake property do have a responsibility relative to the use of the waters abutting their lands, and they should be much concerned about itinerant bathers swimming from their areas.

In order that the people of Newton may be familiar with these basic rules, they are quoted as follows:

RULE 13. No person shall bathe in this lake except in proper costume and at a place designated therefor, or bathe at any other seasons or hours than are posted at the designated bathing beach; or bathe on days or during hours not designated for his or her sex and no persons may loiter on or near the bathing beach. Exception is made as to loitering when parents or guardians accompany children or when nurses or maids or other persons come in charge of children.

RULE 15. No person shall have charge of, row a boat, paddle a canoe, run or drive a boat or canoe, propelled by steam, naphtha, gasoline, electric or other motor or engine, or by sail, unless he shall have first obtained a written permit therefor from the Newton Playground Commission; or drive the same at a speed exceeding eight miles an hour; or in such a manner as to endanger or annoy others.

RULE 16. No fishing is allowed on Crystal Lake from December 1st to June 30th. From July 1st to November 30th, fishing is allowed, but is subject to existing rules and regulations of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts pertaining to fishing.

Any person violating any of the above rules, shall for each offense, be punished by a fine of not more than twenty dollars. (Revised Laws, Chapter 243).

in Medford. From that experience she became teacher of ninth grade mathematics.

The first junior high school in this area was the Swan Junior High School of Medford, and when that institution was opened in 1918, Miss Thomas was selected as a member of the first faculty. In this position she taught 28 periods of technical grammar. Later she was selected to organize the commercial work in this school.

This led to her attendance at Boston University where she continued her education in shorthand, law, economics, and accounting. She received the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration in 1924, and Master of Commercial Science in 1931.

Miss Thomas came to Newton High School in September, 1925, to teach clerical practice, typewriting and business arithmetic. Later she specialized in bookkeeping, and when the Newton Junior College opened in 1946 she became instructor in accounting 1 and advanced accounting.

Miss Thomas has performed many extra-curricular duties. In Medford she had entire charge of the Junior Red Cross work of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades of the Lincoln School during World War I. She was treasurer of the Medford Teachers Club, taught church school classes and was active in youth work and dramatics in the First Unitarian Church.

In Newton she has been assistant sophomore adviser in charge of the business sophomore girls since 1931. She has served on the Program and Graduation Committee for several years, and for many years she was treasurer of the Boys Athletic Association. She was also active in many of the dramatic productions of the faculty given for the benefit of student welfare funds.

Miss Thomas has always taken an active part in the work of the many professional organizations to which she belongs. She is a member of the National Education Association and has served on the Legislative Committee. She is a member of the Massachusetts Teachers Federation and was extremely active in securing passage of the recent retirement law. She has also held membership in the New England High School Commercial Teachers Association, and the Eastern Business Teachers Association. She established group insurance organization for the members of the Newton High School Women's Club which organization she also served as secretary and auditor. Since the organization of the Newton Teachers Federation she has served as consultant on retirement.

Miss Thomas has traveled widely over this continent and has visited Labrador, Newfoundland, all of the Canadian provinces, Bermuda, and many parts of the United States. After retirement Miss Thomas hopes to continue her travels, going west this summer to Jasper, National Park, and then to Alaska. During the winter she will go to Florida. She intends also in the days ahead to find time to do much reading and to continue her lively interest in the drama.

The display of courage, perseverance, and educational purpose, as shown by these girls is highly commendable and should serve as an example to all handicapped children.

The Work of the Senate

By Senator Richard H. Lee

The Senate has had a lengthy debate over an Act to permit innholders who have liquor licenses to serve liquor in cottages or cabins owned by them. This bill was proposed by some hotel men on Cape Cod and was reported favorably by the Committee on Legal Affairs. However, strong objection was made in debate by Senators Flanagan, Pierce, Lee and Melley, that it would be impossible to control or police a floating bar-room with bell hops peddling liquor among the cabins, and although some reputable hotels would use this power wisely, many new ones might spring up, who would serve after hours, serve to minors, or unregistered guests, and bring the whole system into disrepute.

This bill, H-509, was defeated on its reading with a tie vote, the President voting against it. Reconsideration came up Monday and the bill was sent along to take another reading.

The City of Boston has had a Detective Bureau for many years and also has special officers at each police station who are normally used for plain clothes work. These special officers and certain detectives at Headquarters are not required to observe regular schedule as to hours.

For several years, attempts have been made by certain members of the Legislature to provide for freeing all persons doing detective work into a permanent classification as detective, with higher pay. These proposals have always ignored civil service, which is the normal course for securing promotion and higher pay, and the bills have never been reported to the Committee on Civil Service. Last year such a bill came before the Public Service Committee, where it was opposed by Commissioner

Sullivan, Superintendent Fallon and Commissioner Grehan of Civil Service. Finally a compromise was worked out based somewhat on the New York City practice, under which the Police Commissioner was empowered to give the rating of detective to a limited number of officers as a reward for outstanding detective work. A pay raise of $300 a year was to go to each man so recognized. The classification could, however be withdrawn by the Commissioner of the man ceased to perform his duties in a satisfactory manner.

This year, a bill, S-84, was proposed and sent to the Committee on Cities. This bill would interfere with the discretion of the Police Commissioner and would permanently freeze into the category of detective, with pay raise, each officer who was assigned to any sort of detective work. The Committee on Cities has been particularly partial to the influence of the Boston City Hall. It reported the bill favorably and the bill was adopted by the Senate after stormy debate. Senator Taylor violently attacked the Police Commissioner, saying that he had abused his discretion to favor his pets; that he had named his chauffeur a detective and had failed to name several sergeants who had done outstanding work. Senator Innes replied that the Commissioner had taken the recommendations of the station captains in naming detectives and pointed out that all sergeants were given a substantial pay raise last year, so that there was more reason for giving this reward to patrolmen. Senator Lee stated that the Commissioner's chauffeur was a World War Veteran with thirty years of police work to his credit and had two years ago captured an armed burglar, and that the remedy was to get a new police commissioner if discretion was being abused rather than take away all authority from the head of the department. Senator Richardson extolled the work of Commissioner Sullivan. Senators Keenan and Taylor said that outsiders were trying to run the City of Boston and that the Boston Senators should be allowed to decide Boston questions. The bill was passed by a substantial margin over the objections of the Republican objectors.

Wolley of Virginia Road, Waltham, formerly of West Newton, have just returned from Atlantic City where they attended the 53rd Credit Congress of the National Association of Credit Men. Home Repairs: Patch Up Cracks in Plaster, Stucco Walls; Fasten Tiles

If you're going to paint plaster walls, might as well start off on the right foot. Hairline cracks can often be repaired with a plaster stick which is simply rubbed over the cracks. Apply as smoothly as you can. Roughness can be sanded down.

Where plaster is loose or has fallen off, remove all that isn't firmly attached to the lath, then take off sharp edges so the opening is fairly even. If the wood is rotten or broken, replace it. Brush the edges of the old plaster with water.

Three coats of plaster are usually applied: the first, or scratch coat; the second or brown coat, the third, a finishing coat. Don't mix more than you'll use in an hour's work. The scratch coat is 2 parts sharp sand to 1 part gypsum plaster; the brown coat is 3 parts sand to 1 part gypsum plaster; for the finish coat, use prepared gypsum which needs only water.

Tile Repairs
Real tile consists of small pieces of baked clay. For floors it is hard, unglazed and uniformly colored all the way through. For walls, tile is usually softer, glazed and colored.

Should a tile get loose, take it out and clean the underside. Soak it in water and wipe off the excess. Then coat the under side with a ready-made adhesive or a homemade mixture of egg white, plaster-of-Paris and enough water to make a thin paste. This sets quickly so be ready to use it immediately.

Clean out the cavity and press the tile back into it until the upper surface is even with the rest of the floor tile. Then mix up a little Portland cement with enough water to make it the consistency of cream, press it into the interstices around the tile and wipe off the excess with a damp cloth.

Stucco Repairs
Cracks in stucco walls should not be neglected. If moisture reaches the nails or metal lath and rusts them, the situation will be aggravated. To mend small cracks or holes, brush out the dust and dirt, dampen the edges with water and fill with cement or plaster-of-Paris. Smooth it off with a putty knife as soon as it begins to set.

Large cracks must be cleaned out as for plaster patches (above) and filled with stucco which is troweled in. Where a large area of the wall develops fine cracks,

Land In West Open To Vets

Veterans Administration regional offices in New England have been advised by the Bureau of Reclamation, Department of the Interior, that fifty farm units, comprising 5,912 acres of irrigable public land, in the Riverton Project in central Wyoming have been opened for homestead settlement by veterans. This homestead is in addition to one on the Heart Mountain division of the Shoshone Project in northern Wyoming which was announced recently.

Detailed information concerning the land, qualifications required of applicants, and application blanks may be obtained from the Superintendent, Operation and Development, Bureau of Reclamation, Riverton, Wyoming. Applications must be filed not later than 2 p.m., August 2, 1949.

It will need a new coat of stucco. Before applying, score the wall so that the new coat will adhere firmly to it. Brush the loose particles with a wire brush, wet it down and put on the finishing coat of new stucco.

It's a good idea to coat stucco with a waterproofing compound made of sodium silicate (water glass). Use 1 part powdered water glass to 4 parts water, apply with whitewash brush. Put on three coats, letting each one dry thoroughly. To paint stucco, use a paint made especially for that purpose.

Concrete Repairs
Holes or cracks in concrete walls or floors can be repaired by cutting out the edges with a cold chisel so they form a verticle groove, or better yet, one with under-cut edges.

Mix 1 part of Portland cement with 3 parts sand and enough water to give the mixture the consistency of putty. Force this into the crack and take off the excess but let the surface remain a shade higher than the old concrete. It will settle down. In an hour or so, smooth it flush. To prevent it from drying too quickly, keep a wet cloth over it for a few days.

Cracks in outer walls are repaired the same way but the filler formula varies. Use 1 part Portland cement and 2 parts sand, then mix in 1 part hydrated lime to each 10 parts of the cement and sand mixture. Mix with water to the consistency of ordinary mortar. Trowel lightly into the cracks.

Old Fashioned Orange Marmalade With a New Fashioned Flavor

If you didn't make jams and jellies last year — it's not too late! Now is the time to take advantage of the orange crop and fill those empty glasses. Winter marmalade with all the color and flavor of the fresh, ripe fruit is good — but good!

Add early-morning cheer to the breakfast table by serving this quickly-made orange spread on hot waffles and see if it doesn't become a family favorite.

Orange marmalade can be made by a new, easy short-boil method rather than the long-boil preparation that grandma often used. Your marmalade will be both firm and tender if you use the natural fruit pectin recipes below.

ORANGE MARMALADE
3½ cups prepared fruit
2½ cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

TO PREPARE FRUIT. Remove skins in quarters from 5 medium oranges and 1 medium lemon. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about ½ of white part. With a very sharp knife, cut remaining rind into fine shreds. Add 1½ cups water and ¼ teaspoon soda. Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, for just 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cut off tight skin of peel; fruit and slip pulp out of each section. Add pulp, juice, and 1 cup sugar to cooked rind. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes longer. This cup of sugar is in addition to the 2½ cups specified above.

TO MAKE THE MARMALADE. Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a ¾ quart kettle, filling up last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary; place over high heat. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, ¼ teaspoon butter may be added.) Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 2 minutes. Remove from heat, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot marmalade at once. Makes about 7 glasses (6 ounces each).

My Neighbor Tells Me --

Put successive layers of dough, sweetened, drained cherries, dough. Layer of crushed, drained pineapple may be added. Top layer should be dough.

Vets Quiz

Q—What assistance can be given me by VA in furthering my claim for compensation when the official records are not available or are incomplete?

A—VA contact representatives are authorized by law to aid claimants in the preparation and presentation of claims. Your contact representative will assist you in preparing an affidavit giving complete history of your sickness or injury.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and would like to know if a medical examination is necessary before my claim, filed at discharge, can be rated?

A—It is not necessary if the service records give sufficient information in your claim filed at discharge, or if a claim is filed within six months after discharge.

Q—Is there a time limit in which I, a World War I veteran, may file a claim for compensation for disability caused by my war service?

A—There is no time limit set for filing claim for compensation. However, if a claim for disability compensation is not filed within one year from date of release from active service, compensation may not be awarded for any period prior to the date of the claim.

Q—What is meant by presumptive service connection?

A—There is a provision in the law to presume service connection for specified disabilities that become manifest within stated periods of time following separation from active service.

Q—I am a veteran of World War II and have a bad conduct discharge which is neither honorable nor dishonorable, but VA has denied me compensation because of it. Isn't VA bound by the character of discharge given me by the Army?

A—No. Under existing law, to be entitled to benefit under laws administered by VA, a World War II veteran must have been discharged or released from active service under conditions other than dishonorable. Where the discharge, as in your case, is neither honorable nor dishonorable, the VA must make a determination as to whether it is under other than dishonorable conditions.

Q—I am considered totally disabled for insurance purposes but receive only 20 percent for disability compensation payments. Can my award be increased?

A—Your award can be increased only if the service-connected disability is shown to have increased in severity. For insurance purposes, there may be other disabilities, not service-connected, which, when combined with your service-connected condition, produce total disability.

Mass. Area Offers Fine Vacations

Picturesque hills and dales . . . friendly inns . . . trim houses . . . leisurely rivers . . . drowsy country lanes. These are but a few of the attractions in Pioneer Valley, Central Massachusetts and the Berkshires.

These resort areas, as the Massachusetts Development and Industrial Commission points out, also offer excellent fishing, fine facilities for picnicking and camping, many tennis courts and golf courses, numerous bridlepaths, and hidden trails for hiking.

Natives in the central and western part of Massachusetts are proud of the beauty of their countryside. An illustration of this is a sign on the side of a barn near the Blandford-Otis line which reads, "You Are Entering God's Country. Don't Drive Through Like Hell." And in Pioneer Valley tourists are told of the local proprietor who in 1850 advertised "The Finest Cultivated View in New England. Gorgeous Sunsets and Sunrises." The famed singer, Jenny Lind, was so attracted to Pioneer Valley that she remained in Northampton for three months.

Encompassing winding rivers, rolling green hills and sparkling ponds, Pioneer Valley, Central Massachusetts and the Berkshires retain the full flavor of rural New England. These areas invite their visitors to spend a lazy day by a brook running through the back yard of an inn, or to walk through pine-scented woods, or to motor over the scenic countryside.

There are many points of interest for the vacationist in these areas. For example, there's Skinner State Park at Hadley, "Grandmother's Garden" of old fashioned flowers at Westfield, Old Sturbridge Village at Sturbridge, and 195-foot Bash Bish Falls in the State Forest at Great Barrington. The annual Berkshire Music Festival on the beautiful grounds of Tanglewood at Lenox is world famous. Amateur mountain climbers delight in the Hopper and Cheshire Harbor trails on Mt. Greylock from whose summit can be seen the fertile valleys and plains of five neighboring states.

West Newton Savings Bank Honors Donald P. Frail and Ruth E. Copeland

Donald P. Frail, Vice Treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank and Manager of its Needham Office and Miss Ruth E. Copeland who have been employed by the Bank for over 25 years and 34 years respectively were the honored guests of the Bank and its employees at an informal reception held at the Newton Office last Thursday afternoon.

Joseph Earl Perry, President of the Bank, after commenting briefly on their long and faithful service, expressed to Miss Copeland and Mr. Frail the appreciation of the entire Board of Trustees. He then introduced Dr. Guy M. Winslow, Vice President of the Bank, who has just recently retired as President of Lasell Junior College after 50 years of service. Dr. Winslow spoke at some length on the particular sense of happiness derived by those who serve for many years with one institution.

Benjamin F. Louis, Treasurer of the Bank, pointed out how the Bank has grown since 1915 when Miss Copeland first started her long term of service. At that time the total staff, including a full time President, was only five people, working on one floor of the Newton Office. This small staff took care of almost 16,000 depositors whose accounts totalled $6,706,578.19 averaging $419.16 per account.

Today 45 employees, using three floors at Newton, and branch offices at Needham and Wellesley take care of 24,488 depositors whose accounts total $31,419,622, averaging $1,283.06 per account.

Total assets of the Bank have increased from $6,984,415, in 1915 to $35,119,858, not including separate assets in the Life Insurance Department of the Bank totalling $1,993,885.93.

Mr. Perry on behalf of the Bank and its Board of Investment then presented Miss Copeland and Mr. Frail with cash purses of $100 each as a tangible token of appreciation of their long and faithful service.

Sylvia Sidney To Open Wellesley Theatre Season

SYLVIA SIDNEY

Sylvia Sidney, glamorous star of stage and screen, will open the third season of the Wellesley Summer Theatre in George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion July 12. Executive Director Eldon Winkler announced today.

The exotic and dramatic star has been equally at home both behind the footlights of the theatre and before the cameras of the movie sound stages throughout her career. Despite her frequent rebellions against Hollywood and desertions from pictures, Miss Sidney has a record of meritorious screen service which can be matched by few film stars.

Mr. Winkler has invited Sylvia Sidney to perform the comedy role of Eliza Doolittle in Pygmalion because of the great success she has had while touring in this play. This will mark her first stage appearance in Wellesley and the signing of Miss Sidney also continues the policy of opening the Wellesley season with one of America's outstanding leading women. Jane Cowl and Peggy Wood were the first stars to appear at the theatre the two previous seasons. Pygmalion will be staged by Mr. Winkler and designed by Charles E. Rogers.

Annual Memorial Sunday Services Held At Stadium

More than 3500 persons filled Dickinson Stadium in Newton Sunday morning to attend the third annual Memorial Sunday observance sponsored by the United Veterans Organizations.

A military mass was celebrated by the Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, assistant pastor of Our Lady's Church, Newton. He was assisted by the Rev. Richard Shea of Boston College as deacon and the Rev. Joseph Donaghy of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes as sub-deacon.

The mass climaxed a celebration that began with a parade of 1200 veterans from Newtonville to the stadium.

Thousands of persons lined the route of the parade, but the size of the crowd was cut down by the coolness of the weather and the earliness of the hour.

A police detail led by Chief Philip Purcell headed the parade. It was followed by a fire department detail led by Chief John J. Corcoran. Then in order marched Company F of the national guard with its commander, Captain Stanley Webb, and Company K of the national guard with its commander, Captain Thomas Hickey.

Music was provided by the Newton High School band, under direction of Wesley Merritt. The band was followed by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood and his group. The commanders of all the 11 veteran organizations were next, and the 1200 vets, clad in uniforms, followed.

At the stadium, the paraders were served in the first four rows of the centre stands. Also seated in the centre section were the Gold Star parents of the city.

After the mass, the Rev. William J. Kenney, dean of the Boston College school of law, memorialized those who died in the last war and stressed the reasons for their sacrifices.

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing was represented at the mass by the Rt. Rev. Eric MacKenzie of Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. The Rt. Rev. John J. Crane of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, and the Rev. Michael E. Doherty, pastor of Our Lady's Church, and General Daniel Lynch, U. S. A., retired, were also seated at the altar.

Taps were sounded and a firing squad from Company K fired a salute.

News From The State House

By HELEN L. RING

Rep. Murphy, majority Democratic Floor Leader of Malden gave the House members a pep talk Wednesday afternoon after business of the day. He stated that all members must be prepared to remain longer in the House and far into the night and have an early prorogation so as to get rid of many bills now pending in the House.

The House met at 1:05 o'clock with only 32 members present on Wednesday. There are 240 members elected to the House. The question arose "where are the rest of them?"

Rep. Lynch of Springfield presented to the House Clerk a Resolve which he read. The Resolve asked that a sweeping investigation be made of the present rates of the New England Telephone Co. He said that the wildest spending of money by telephone company was being done and the public is now paying for it. It is up to the Legislature to correct these charges, and not the court. (Judge Harold P. Williams allowed rate increases totaling about $8,000,000 to go into effect immediately.) Rep. James Burke, who filed the Resolve, stated that the poor are suffering and the stockholders are only interested in more profits. The Republican floor leader of the House, Rep. Charles Gibbons of Stoneham stated an investigation is not necessary. A standing vote was called for and it was voted the Resolve go to the Rules Committee for action. All new bills presented to the General Court at a late date must be sent to the Rules Committee before they are acted upon in both the House and Senate.

Many people have asked "who will be in charge of spending the $100,000,000 bond." It is Commissioner of Public Works William F. Callahan. Mr. Callahan lives on 792 Chestnut St., West Newton. He was appointed by Gov. Ely and removed by Gov. Saltonstall in 1939. Mr. Callahan is a shrewd businessman, industrious and looks the type that can get work done. He was appointed by Gov. Dever.

Mr. Callahan stated that he was greatly interested in getting things done, and he is on the way now in building new highways and roads. He is greatly interested in getting the road in Nonantum, Route 128 started. This road he said will help to relieve traffic congestion in the City of Newton.

Commissioner Callahan appeared before the Committee on State Administration asking for a complete reorganization of the Public Works Department. He stated that he favored the recommendation of Gov. Dever's program for reorganization of the entire department. Mr. Callahan said that the battle to build roads in Massachusetts is being strangled by red tape, and a lot of money being wasted on paper work is terrific. He asked that a baby Hoover Commission be established to study reorganization of the entire state government. Sen. Sumner G. Whittier, Republican, agreed reorganization should take place, but he hoped that it would not be a witch hunt or a job hunt. He was more concerned lest the commissioner "drop an atom bomb on Civil Service."

The Committee on Education reported leave to withdraw on H. 130. Senator Mahar, who filed the bill for State Aid for Education, stated that six members of the committee voted for the bill and two against. Rep. Margaret Spear, of Newton, voted against the bill. It needs eight members to favor the bill. Senator Mahar stated that it will not take all the money from income to meet the provisions but that $5,000,000 will be taken from income and $15,500,000 will be taken from the General Fund appropriations. Members favoring bill are: Sen. Mahar, Whittier and Hogan, and Rep. Blye, Putnam and Hull. This bill and H. 131 was on the calendar Wednesday in the House. It was postponed until Tuesday, May 31.

Gov. Dever signed the bill to allow the City of Newton to sell playground land on Winchester St. He also signed the bill to allow the City of Newton to extend the time to pensioning of school janitors and foremen.

The Committee on Ways and Means reported leave to withdraw on H. 1499 filed by Rep. Howard Whitmore, Jr., for the City of Newton calling for a share of the surplus of Metropolitan Sewer South District Sinking Fund amounting to $50,000. The report of the committee stated that the 14 cities and towns were not notified. They should get together with the M.D.C. and State Treasurer and decide what would be for the best interests at present time.

In addition, there will be courses in stenography and typewriting, which are open to adults as well as undergraduate students.

All courses are open to non-residents as well as residents of Newton. Pupils from outside communities should bring a letter of authorization from their school adviser or principal in order to register for any review course.

Mr. C. H. Mergendahl of the Newton High School staff is the director of the summer session. Registration will be conducted at the Administration Building of the Newton High School from June 1 - June 30. Information may be obtained by calling LA 7-6267.

The following officers were elected: President, Franklin Flaschner; vice-president, Robert Coleron; treasurer, James Boudreau; auditor, David Chapman; directors at large, Edward McMahon and Robert Chadbourne.

Mr. Mullins, member of the Veterans Committee on Housing for the City of Newton was the guest speaker. A question and answer period took place on the floor and since the hour was late 11:15 P.M. it was continued during the refreshment period. Mr. Franklin Flaschner president of the Association asked Mr. Mullins to speed up the services and building as the work was being staged. Mr. Mullins promised to do what he can to speed up the work. The organization is vibrant, vigilant and well organized to function, and quite enthusiastic about its responsibilities.

TO MAKE YOUR ELECTRICITY...

...A GENERATOR HAS TO SPIN

...FALLING WATER WILL SPIN IT

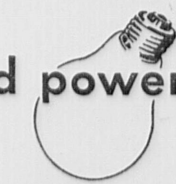

...STEAM WILL SPIN IT

There are 178 electric utility water power plants in New England, representing most of the economically feasible locations. Their total output equals about 25% of New England's electricity requirements.

At 73 electric utility plants in New England steam spins the generators. They supply about 75% of our electricity; even more during periods when the water power plants are hampered by New England's unpredictable weather conditions.

(By means of interconnecting transmission lines both steam and water power work together to ensure an ample supply of electricity for New England homes, commerce and industry.)
